What's important to me...

- Being outdoors visiting lovely places and seeing the countryside. This helps me to unwind and put things into perspective
- Spending time with my husband. We like to see each other whenever work allows and like to be out and about exploring (not in-front of the TV!)

How to support me well at work...

- If you ask me to do something please give me the information and plenty of time to do it
- Please don't call me when I'm at home or when I'm on holiday (unless it is a real emergency)
- If I am quiet it may be because I am thinking (please feel free to check I'm ok)
- Need lots of tea to keep me going - preferably milky and not too strong
- Be honest with me and let me know if I do things wrong. Please approach me directly
- Having a mutual understanding to achieve goals even if views and opinions differ. It's helpful to check this out during team meetings. Support me to do the best job I can for the people I support by working with me and not against me.
